Meet With Supervisors To Discuss Financial Aid For Tony Bourgeois

Mrs. David Poindexter, president of the League of Women Voters, and Mrs. C. C. McDonald, vice president, met with the Board of Supervisors Monday to further discuss the matter of financial aid to Tony Bourgeois, former jailer who was injured in an escape by a county prisoner.

R. G. Hubbard, president of the board, told the league representatives in 1955 when the old league requested that the board employ a night jailer and Mr. Bourgeois was employed, the legality of the matter was doubtful at the time. No state statute provides for a county-paid night jailer, but one can be employed and paid by the sheriff, the supervisor added.

At the time Mr. Bourgeois was employed by the board, Hubbard continued, the sheriff did not feel he could afford to pay a night jailer.

He further said the former board had not wanted to set a precedent in giving financial aid to persons injured while in the employ of the county, but it would be up to this board to make a decision after the new members go into details and discuss the matter fully.

Mr. Bourgeois has received approximately $1,000 in aid since the board paid his salary for three months following his injury and made additional contributions through his brother, who turned his county-paid salary over to Bourgeois, Hubbard said.

Attorney Walter James Phillips said a private bill could have been passed at the special session of the legislature in December, but he had not been authorized by the board to introduce one at that time. Mr. Phillips further said the current session would continue through March and he asked the board to reach a decision this month in order to have sufficient time to get the bill passed.

When questioned by the league representatives as to the present status of a night jailer, Sheriff Gerald Price stated his office provides 24 hour service and a night deputy on duty in his main office inspects the jail during the night. Mr. Price further said he had a set rule where one officer was not to enter the jail alone, but that two would go in together at all times.

There are also two patrol cars on duty on 24-hour duty, the sheriff concluded.

MISSISSIPPI POWER CO. TO SPEND 43 MILLION IN 3 YEARS

Mississippi Power Company expects to spend approximately forty-three million dollars on construction during the next 3 years, 1960-1961 inclusive. This announcement was made by A. J. Watson, Jr., company president.

Mr. Watson said the company has spent over $86,000,000 on construction since the end of 1940. Since 1950, Mississippi Power Company's plant investment and generating capacity have almost doubled; both are expected to triple by 1961.

The largest construction project scheduled during this period will be the completion of the second 100,000 horsepower generating unit at the Gulf Coast Plant and the construction of a third generating unit with 150,000 horsepower capacity. The second unit is scheduled for operation in April of this year and the third unit in 1962.

These units will add their capacity to the company's existing unit at the Gulf Coast Plant and the company's other modern high-pressure steam electric plants, Plant Eaton and Plant Sweat, near Hattiesburg and Meridian respectively. Through its interconnected transmission system, the output of these plants is available to supply the company's present and anticipated load requirements. These plants are also interconnected with and form a part of the Southern Company system which integrates the plants of Alabama, Georgia, Gulf and Mississippi Power Companies to give a combined capacity in excess of four and one half million kilowatts.

Several high voltage, high capacity transmission lines and transmission substations are included in the three-year construction program. These will further strengthen the company's present interconnected transmission network serving southeast Mississippi.

A large part of the proposed program will be devoted to distribution systems. Additional distribution lines and substations will be constructed and existing facilities will be expanded and strengthened to provide for anticipated area development and load growth.

Mr. Watson in commenting on this forty-three million dollar construction program, said, "We are confident that the economy of this area will continue at an even greater pace than it has in the past several years."

"Much of the money needed for this construction must come from other parts of the country. It is obtained from investors; individuals, institutional investors, insurance companies and others. As long as these people have faith in Mississippi, they will continue to invest here. We will continue to stimulate that interest and faith through economic reports, personal contacts, and other means, including national advertising such as The Southern Company's "Report to the Nation," in which we and other operating companies of The Southern Company participate."

"This construction program will give an added boost to the economy of the area through payrolls and local purchases of materials and supplies. Much of the work will be done by our own crews, but some of the jobs, such as completion of the second and third units at the Gulf Coast Plant, will be done by contractors. Payrolls of these contractors will be substantial."

"It takes a great deal of time to design and construct these electrical facilities, for instance a generating plant requires over three years, so it is necessary for us to plan and build ahead of actual requirements. This new construction is designed to meet anticipated future requirements and to assure southeast Mississippi a thoroughly adequate and dependable supply of electricity at all times."

BUY NOW PAY LATER

That's the easy and popular way lots of us do our shopping. But do we do any credit shopping to really know what it is costing us to "pay later." We have a choice of several types of credit.

Charge Accounts. There is no charge for this type of credit, except the mark-up on goods necessary to cover service costs.

Budget Accounts. There is no charge for the budget credit or extended payment plan unless you take more time than that stated in the contract to pay. The contract may be for 90 days to six months. You pay 1 1/2 percent a month on the unpaid balance where you have more time.

Revolving Accounts. The store decides how much credit to allow you, based on your income rating. You may charge purchases as long as you do not exceed the credit limit set by the store. You make set monthly payments on this account, usually one-sixth of the balance due. The interest rate is usually 1 1/2 percent a month on the unpaid balance. This cost can run pretty high

...get the account to the bank next month.

Installment Accounts. This is also known as "dealer credit" and "paying as time." You usually have installment credit plans when you buy a car or a refrigerator. The interest rate is usually 8 percent. It will be more if the bank discounts the loan at the time it is made or if you repay the loan in installments rather than a lump sum at the end of the loan period.

SAFETY MAKES SENSE

IN THE KITCHEN — a busy place that can easily be the most dangerous place in the home.

Most kitchen accidents result from falls. What did you stand on the last time you reached for something on the top cabinet shelf? Many falls occur by people using chairs, boxes or other makeshifts for climbing water, grease, or foods spilled on the floor cause many accidents. Wipe them up immediately.

Another cause of accidents are toys, throw rugs or other objects you might trip over. Sometimes it seems impossible to keep the floor clear of these, but a little time here might save a lot of pain and expense.

Cracking a coconut is a lot easier if you drain the coconut and heat it in the oven for 30 minutes at 350 degrees F. The shell will crack in several places and will crack all over when you tap it with a hammer. You can take the meat out of the shell a lot easier, too.

STATE HAS 28 NEW LIBRARIES

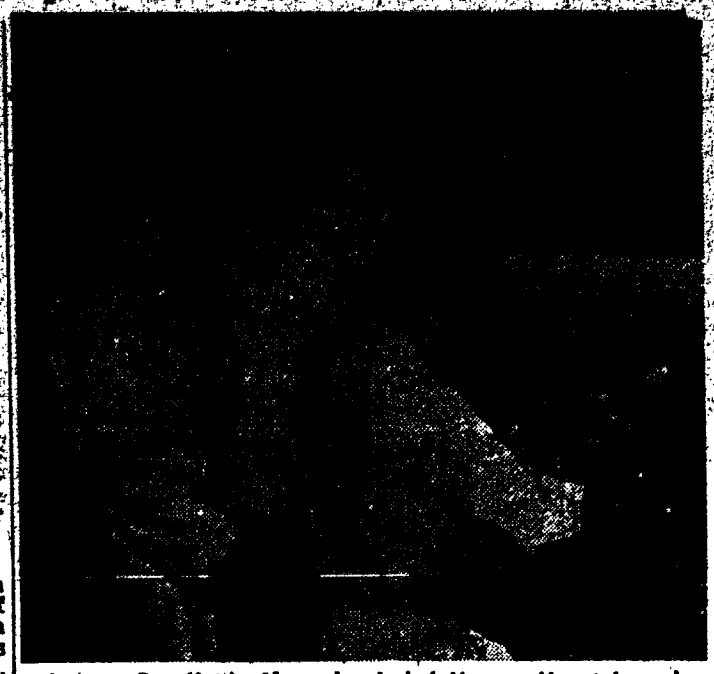

In 28 Mississippi towns during the past year municipal officers have participated in very special ceremonies—the dedication and official opening of the new libraries.

Libraries have been opened in Ashland, Bruce, Calhoun City, Centerville, Cleveland, Collins, Crosby, Florence, Flowood, Glosier, Gunnison, Hickory Flat, Indianola, Itta Bena, Liberty, Merigold, Mt. Olive, Pelahatchie, Pickens, Rosedale, Seminary, Shaw, Shelby, Taylorville, Utica, Water Valley, Weir and Woodville.

Woman Play Key Role In 'Dimes' Research

Growing a killer virus in a laboratory test tube to see what makes it tick may not seem like an ideal pastime for women. Yet in recent years an increasing number of women have attained top-rank recognition as medical research scientists, many of them under grants supplied by The National Foundation with New March of Dimes funds.

The researches of these women have enlarged the body of new medical information and helped solve a wide variety of health problems. Not least among these was the conquest of a virus that killed and crippled its victims in wave after wave of epidemics—polio.

L. to r., Drs. Hattie Alexander, Isabel Morgan Mountain and Katherine Sprunt.

Pioneer in Protection

Dr. Isabel Morgan Mountain is one of the most famous of these women scientists. As a member of the Johns Hopkins research group some years ago, she won medical recognition for demonstrating that animals could be protected against polio by a vaccine. This was a giant step toward the development of the Salk vaccine for humans, which—like Dr. Mountain's work—was done under grants financed by the March of Dimes.

Dr. Mountain's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Hunt Morgan, were both well-known geneticists. Her father won a Nobel Prize in 1933 as the originator of the gene theory of heredity. Dr. Mountain, who is married to a prominent surgeon in New York, is included in the Polio Hall of Fame at the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation.

At Yale University, Dr. Dorothy Horstmann has won fame for her researches in polio-virus, in epidemiology (the science of epidemic diseases) and in the newer viruses only recently discovered. She is on the research team of Dr. John Paul under a National Foundation grant.

Nun Studies Proteins

At St. Louis University, Sister Mary Celeste of the Order of the Immaculate Heart of Mary and a doctor of medicine, is involved in studying the role proteins may play in virus reproduction. Her research project, headed by Dr. Norman E. Melnick, one of the most advanced scientists in the virus field, is also financed by New March of Dimes funds.

Another woman scientist who can be found hard at work in a laboratory is Dr. Matilda Melnick, at Baylor University Medical School, Houston, Texas. She and her famous scientist

STANFORD E. MORSE

State Senator Stanford Morse, guest speaker, discussed reappointment at a meeting of the League of Women Voters Tuesday night at the City-County Memorial Library.

During the business session a discussion was held concerning the hospital, doctor bills and other expenses incurred by Tony Bourgeois, former Hancock County jailer, who was injured by a prisoner while in the line of duty.

It was brought to the attention of the League that it was partly through their efforts that a jailer was employed by the county and a committee was named to further discuss with the Board of Supervisors the matter of financial aid by the county towards Mr. Bourgeois' medical expenses.

A motion was made that the League send a letter to Sheriff

KILL OUT POLE WELL DRY

Kill area of Hancock County is still considered a geological prospect. Although one and one-half miles of Kill field discovery was made.

Since the discovery well 10 feet of saturation in the thick Cuevas zone, it is expected that more exploration will be made in the area to determine the true potential of the field.

The Marshall R. Young, Jr., Jordanacre-34, Sec. 34-72-10W, was abandoned at 10,814 feet with only a thin show of oil. It encountered three sands between 10,225 and 10,340 feet, but one had a slight show of oil.

In Ansley field, Hancock County, Paul L. McBride, Jr., No. 2, Gustave B. Baldwin, Jr., Sec. 34-72-10W, is shut in waiting for storage facilities. From perforations 10,802-22 feet the well flowed an unestimated amount of gas on 8 1/8 inch choke with tubing pressure 50 pounds.

University of Mississippi Receives $14,500 Grant For Summer Camp

University, Miss.—A grant of $14,500 from the National Science Foundation has been awarded to the University of Mississippi to conduct a Summer Science Camp for high school students, it was announced today by Dr. S. F. Clark, chairman of the Science Education Committee of the University.

A hundred outstanding science students, chiefly from the eleventh grade, will be selected to attend the three-week session from June 12 through July 1. Students from Mississippi and adjoining mid-south areas will be eligible.

Students will be housed on campus, and will have laboratory and field study, as well as classes in astronomy, biology, chemistry, geology, mathematics and physics. They will be taught by the science faculty of the University.

According to Dr. Clark, the aim of the summer camp will be to give superior students a comprehensive view of the basic sciences and to stimulate them to continue scientific careers.

Dr. Clark will serve as director of the session. Melbourne Miller, head of the science department of the University High School, will be assistant director.

Mississippi's Industrial Giant Is The Great Timber Using Industry

More people are employed in the manufacture of wood products than are found in any other manufacturing enterprise. (This is exceeded only by the people engaged in farming.) At present there are approximately 800 manufacturers of rough and finished lumber in Mississippi. This means that in this one division of the wood using industry there is an average of nearly ten sawmills per county.

Water Pressure Was Reduced

Water pressure was reduced Monday while repairs were being made to a fire hydrant located at the Housing Project on Ballentine Street.

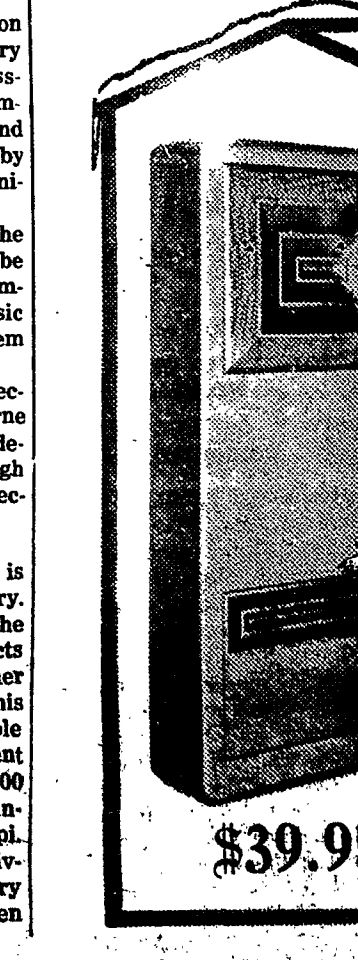

The hydrant Cyril Glover, Commissioner of Public Utilities, stated was knocked down by Mrs. Dyas Brown when she lost control of her car.

The pressurizer had to be cut down in order to facilitate repairs as the six inch hydrant was broken approximately four feet under ground and could not be repaired under pressure, Glover added.

Mississippi's fast moving oil industry saw during the past week five new oil wells completed with three being in the McComb field of Pike County. The McComb field discovered in August of last year currently lists 19 completed oil wells and 20 drilling operations under way.

BLANKE-BREARD WEDDING

Miss Nancy Starr Beard and Mr. Harry Blanke, Jr. were married in St. Matthews' Catholic Church at 3:30 p. m. Saturday, with the Rev. Father Jordan Schell officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Beard of Monroe, La., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Blanke of Waveland and New Orleans.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported cotton satin with a molded bodice rising into a wide scalloped neckline, framed with handcut Chantilly lace. The bodice skirt featured a wide shirred inset between two folds, the lower one ending in full flounce of the lace. Her finger tip veil of illusion was attached to a cap of the same lace. She carried a bouquet of magnolia flora camellias and the handmaiden handkerchief which her paternal grandmother had carried on her wedding day. She wore an heirloom necklace of blue sapphires which had been a gift from her great-grandfather to his bride and has been handed down through the generations to the bride.

Miss Nancy Ann Albright, maid of honor, wore a gown of cardinal red peau de soie, styled with a V neckline, cap sleeves and tight bodice. The skirt was fashioned with unpressed pleats in front and back. At the waist the wide contour belt had at its back a flat bow and her headpiece was a bow of the same material as her gown. She wore matching slippers and carried a nosegay of pink perfection camellias.

Mr. Blanke served as his son's best man; ushers were William Henry Blanke, and Richard Hugh Blanke, brothers of the bridegroom. Michael Feltus Beard, the bride's brother, and John Howard Blanke, brother of the bridegroom served as altar boys.

A reception for members of the families was held at the Paragon Club.

Mrs. Beard chose for her daughter's wedding a Dior blue silk faille trimmed with matching silk lace, a hat of blue leaves and darker blue accessories.

The mother of the groom wore a candlelight satin frock and matching accessories. They wore camellias corsages.

Mrs. Blanke traveled in a raspberry, nubby wool suit. Black patent accessories and a small hat of moss green trimmed with small berries shading to the deep raspberry tone of her suit completed her attire.

Upon their return from a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Blanke will be at home on Audubon St. in New Orleans where the bride is a junior at Sophie Newcomb College. The groom, who attends Tulane University, is associated with his father in business.

"Ulysses" To Show At A & G Theatre Tuesday February 7th

The motion picture that re-creates history's most glorious adventure and most tested and abiding love — a story that has thrilled the world for thousands of years — will once again thrill local fans when "Ulysses" opens February 7 at the A&G Theatre.

Based on Homer's "Odyssey," the mighty Technicolor epic stars Kirk Douglas as the great Greek Warrior, Silvana Mangano as the dual roles of the enchantress Circe and Ulysses' faithful wife, Penelope, and Anthony Quinn as Antinous, the most formidable of Penelope's many suitors, with Italian beauty, Rossana Podesta in a featured role.

"Ulysses" was filmed along the actual Mediterranean and Aegean Sea routes the fabled sailor originally traveled, and brings to vivid life his most fantastic adventures with the one-eyed giant, Cyclops, with the beautiful sorceress Circe, with the deadly Sirens. All and more contribute to the intense excitement of "Ulysses."

"30" Picture To Be Shown At the Star Theatre February 7-8

Jack Webb, the nation's most honored "cop," bids fair to becoming the nation's best-known newspaperman as a result of his motion picture — "30" — at the Star Theatre, Sunday and Monday, Feb. 7-8.

Based on the book by Mark VII Ltd. for Warner Bros. release, "30" is the first authentic glimpse into a newspaper in a generation, Webb said.

"Not since 'Front Page' has the Fourth Estate been given such extensive treatment in an entertainment vehicle. But in '30', we remove the fourth wall of a big city newspaper for eight hours and lay bare its workings," said Webb.

"We tell the truth about how newspapermen feel about the tragedy, despair and toil they meet everyday," he added.

To heighten the realism, Webb obtained permission to reconstruct in detail the city room of a famous Los Angeles daily for an exact reproduction, endears on the wall, was built on a studio sound stage.

Cooperation of the Associated Press and United Press International also was obtained, to install actual newsroom equipment and lend additional authenticity to the production of "30", it was pointed out.

Although Webb shows no trace of Joe Friday in his newspaper project, he apparently retained for "30" the same personal work schedule that assured success for "Dragnet" and his subsequent works.

This meant a 14-hour work day and a seven-day work week. Most of his lunch hour while working is spent in a projection room viewing the results of the previous day's shooting.

SON BAPTIZED SUNDAY

Brian Matthew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph R. Morel, was baptized Sunday afternoon at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with the Rev. Michael Kelly officiating.

"A Summer Place" At A. & G. Theatre Friday, February 12

Not since Lana Turner was discovered at a soda fountain has there been such a storybook discovery and overnight success as that of Sandra Dee. Only a few years ago orchestra leader Vaughan Monroe saw the eye-catching teenager walking through New York's Radio City with her equally beautiful young mother, Mary Duvau.

Monroe stopped the pair and asked Sandra whether she'd be interested in appearing on his TV show. Without any previous experience Sandra was set to play Monroe's daughter and this was to zoom her to stardom.

Sandra is currently starring in Warner Bros. film adaptation of the best selling novel, "A Summer Place" which will open February 12 at the A&G Theatre.

Sandra admits frankly she loves being a star, "I like acting, having a lovely home, a swimming pool, a white Thunderbird and closet full of beautiful clothes. Some mornings I grouse about having to get up early, but I don't really mean it. I'm making. On Sundays I think about going back to studio the next day."

The 17-year-old beauty is, as
